Shifts In European Theater Complicate Army Mail Service

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, Paris, June 4 (AP)—Col. S. G. Schwartz, chief postal officer in the European theater of operations, today called for cooperation of soldiers and their correspondents in helping the Army solve the problem of delivering mail on time despite the sweeping reorganization getting underway throughout the theater.

By way of emphasizing the tremendous complications in the postal redeployment facing authorities in the coming months Schwartz said that up to V-E day the Army delivered 1,446,165,977 letters, 53,411,268 parcels and 52,233,640 periodicals to soldiers in the ETO.

Schwartz said if deliveries are to be speedy every soldier must notify his correspondents of each change of address and the latter must use only the latest address to prevent slowing deliveries. As unit transfers move the Army postal service will have its hands full forwarding mail already in transit when the soldier moved.

Boy Scouts Work At Camp Red Buck

Boy Scouts from Escanaba, Gladstone, Munising and Nahma accomplished considerable work in improving the camp grounds at Camp Red Buck over the weekend.

The Scouts hauled a new camp stove, tables and chairs from Morman Creek and also did considerable salvage work on the canteen building that was destroyed during the winter.

Clarence Zerbel, camp director, Fred Johnson, camping chairman, and S. N. Bradford, scout executive, assisted in the program.

Manila, Tuesday, June 5 (AP)—American doughboys fought sharp engagements with Japanese delaying parties on Highway No. 5 leading into northern Luzon's Cagayan valley, last major Nipponese stronghold in the Philippines.

Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler's 37th Division moved ahead several hundred yards, front dispatches reported today. The Yanks still had not encountered any organized defense lines but battled Japanese positions on either side of the winding mountain road. Three enemy tanks, dug in as emplacements, were destroyed.

In central Luzon doughboys of Maj. Gen. William C. Chase's 38th Division captured Haponang Barmoy hill, just east of American-held Wawa dam, but the Japanese still fought bitterly at Mts. Lamita and Purro southeast of the dam.

On Mindanao Island, Maj. Gen. Clarence Martin's 31st Division, driving east from the north-south Sayre highway, broke a Japanese defensive position on the Kibawe-Talomo trail at the Pulangi river, about three miles from the highway.

Across the island to the east the 24th Division gained more ground north and west of the four villages captured on Saturday. Opposition was light.

The Melbourne radio reported, meantime, that Australian troops had captured strategic Margo hill on Tarakan Island, off northeast Borneo, in hand-to-hand fighting. Only the southwestern edge of Tarakan still is in Japanese hands.

Philippine-based bombers raided Formosa with 265 tons despite adverse weather and made a heavy bomb and rocket attack on enemy garrisons on Borneo.

In northern Luzon units of the 37th (Buckeye) Infantry Division drove deeper into Japanese defenses along the mountain road leading to the enemy-held Cagayan valley. Several Japanese tanks were destroyed, the communiqué reported, and additional strongpoints eliminated.

The Japanese, fighting rear-guard actions to cover a general withdrawal northward from south China, suffered 300 casualties in the battle for Tsinkong, a communiqué said.

Simultaneously, other Chinese columns advanced on Liuchow from the northwest and on Saturday captured the highway towns of Locheng, 40 miles northwest, and Jungshien, 50 miles north.

WAR PRISONERS PROTECT CROPS

Flood Damage Averted In Muck Fields Near Muskegon

Fort Custer, Mich., June 4 (AP)—German prisoners of war assigned to food industries in Western Michigan are helping avert a serious flood in the muck fields near Muskegon, it was revealed tonight by authorities at the base.

Muskegon county agent C. A. Van Covering requested Sunday night that POW labor be made available to assist the Tri-County Muck Growers association in attempting to save muck crops planted in an old river bed on Gerrity road near the Muskegon Continental plant, the Tri-County group embraces Oceana, Muskegon and Newaygo counties.

First Lieut. Richard Atkinson, commandant of the Fremont POW camp, rushed 30 prisoners to the area Sunday night where already ten acres were covered with water.

Prisoners and muck growers are working to save an additional 50 acres, Atkinson said, adding that he thought the Muskegon river would be under control early Tuesday.

Prisoners from the Fremont camp worked all Sunday night and were relieved Monday by 20 more from their camp and 15 from the Grant area. Tonight 30 more prisoners were being brought from Fremont.

Diplomats Take Up French Fight With Syria And Lebanon

London, June 4 (AP)—Gen. De Gaulle conferred lengthily today with the American, British and Soviet ambassadors in Paris as France's dispute with Syria and Lebanon apparently entered the field of diplomatic settlement.

The middle east remained tense and British reports said the small-scale anti-French demonstrations had erupted in Cairo, where a meeting of the Pan-Arab league voiced support of the Levantine states.

French reports, lacking official confirmation, said 10 Frenchmen had been killed and three imprisoned since the British moved into Damascus and other trouble spots last week.

French government quarters in Paris said that certain areas of Syria had been returned to the jurisdiction of Syrian gendarmerie and that violence against the French and pro-French Syrians immediately had followed.

The nature of De Gaulle's talks with the British and American ambassadors was not known but French sources said the provisional president of France would insist on a four-power conference between France, the United States, Britain and Russia to examine the problem of the "whole Arab world"—not only Syria and Lebanon.

Britain, it was learned, has consulted the Dominions on the veto and found them lined up solidly against the Russian interpretation that it should extend to discussion of disputes.

The American delegation, at a meeting of its own, showed sympathy for small nation desires for clarifying charter language under which the Big-Five would be entrusted with keeping the peace until the United Nations league gets going. Some little countries are uncertain when the Big-Five would cease to operate and the security league would take over.

The American attitude is that there is nothing to prevent the council from stepping into a threatening situation the minute it is formed and that it will take over enforcement machinery immediately.

Great Money Swap Started In France

Paris, June 4 (AP)—Probably the biggest money swap in history began in France today as citizens queued all over the nation to turn in 600,000,000 francs worth of currency of previous issue for new bills.

Only those whose names began with A, B, or C got the new money today. Others will make the exchange during the remainder of a 12-day exchange period. The exchange was orderly.

Printing orders for the new money were placed both in the United States and Great Britain. The notes went back to France in 35 ships carrying 55,000 cases of bills weighing 2,300 tons. All were delivered to the Bank of France—without loss of a single bill.

American soldiers in France turned in their money at regular army finance officers, getting 50 francs for every dollar.

In black market exchanges, American dollars have brought 100 francs, and the British pound, worth four dollars, brought 400 francs.

It was hoped the new issue would end illicit money deals and help put the two-cent franc on a stable basis.

Comic strips were not used in daily newspapers until the 1890's.

The road has arranged as it did during the previous War Loan drives for every county in which it operates in 12 states to participate in its huge purchase.

Michigan is allotted $444,000 to be distributed among the counties the road serves.

H. A. Scandrett, trustee of the Milwaukee Road, in commenting on the purchase said that in addition to assisting the United States in the prosecution of the war and contributing to the success of the Seventh War Loan drive the investment likewise will be advantageous to the railroad.

A RE-RELEASE

REVIEW BOARD OPENS SESSION

About 40 Complaints Are Heard Here Yesterday; Over 225 Filed

The Escanaba city board of review yesterday opened its session at the city hall to equalize the city tax roll and to hear complaints from property owners on their assessed valuations. The board will continue in session at least four days, and possibly its work will not be finished before the end of the week.

Charles Priestner is chairman of the board of review, and other members are Mayor Sam Wickman, Charles Stoll, Elmer Klassel and Carl E. Anderson, city clerk. E. T. Wilkins, who directed the reappraisal of property in Escanaba for the J. M. Clemenshaw company of Cleveland, is meeting with the board of review to defend the valuation figures established by the company's appraisers. The reappraisal was ordered by the Escanaba city council.

The board of review will be in session each day from 9 to 12 a. m. and from 1:30 to 5 p. m.

Yesterday about 40 complainants were heard by the board of review. Most of these were owners of dwellings who believe the new reappraisal values on their property are too high.

Altogether about 300 complaint forms have been obtained from the office of the city clerk, but of this total only about 225 have been returned for filing and action by the board of review. It was explained yesterday that property owners are welcome to appear in person before the board in supporting their complaint.

Clash Over Kelly Vetoes Forecast In Legislature

Lansing, Mich.—Efforts to override some of Gov. Kelly's vetoes may be attempted when the Legislature returns Wednesday for official adjournment of the 1945 session.

Legislative leaders believe a majority of members may return, so that the Senate and the House can transact business. To upset a veto, 67 House votes and 22 in the Senate are necessary. Anti-Kelly lawmakers doubt that they can round up the votes.

Usually only a handful of senators and representatives appear for the formal adjournment. This year there are factors which may increase attendance.

One of these is the veto of a bill which would have given the legislators power to void rules or regulations of State agencies.

Senator G. Elwood Bonine, of Vandalla, and Rep. James B. Stanley, of Kalamazoo, are leading the fight for it. They believe the law is necessary to combat "bureaucratic" activities of State agencies. Rules on child labor are the chief bone of contention.

Merit Still An Issue
The legislature, predominantly Republican, may refuse to override a veto by Gov. Kelly, titular leader of the party.

"I don't intend to put up a strenuous fight about it," Bonnie said. "If we fail, a similar bill will be introduced in the next session."

Effort also is being made to revive the Wayne County civil service bill. The conference committee which has this measure could report it to the floor. Majority votes in each chamber could adopt it.

The dispute on this measure is whether department heads and some others should be exempt from civil service.

Dozens of other "dead" bills, which have passed one chamber, also theoretically could be revived and enacted in the other chamber. Tradition, however, leaves such bills undisturbed.

Few Bills Vetoes
Gov. Kelly, believing that legislative acts should be accepted unless there is excellent reason to reject them, vetoed few of the 361 measures which reached his desk.

If vetoed measures which would:

Force the State Conservation Department to pay taxes on State-owned land in Southern Michigan counties, the money to come from license fees for hunters and fishermen.

Remove the Wayne County Training School at Northville from non-political control and place it under the County Board of Institutions which runs Eloise Hospital.

Change unintentionally the membership on the Muskegon County tax allocation board.

Budget Sets Record
Most of the 381 public acts were routine or of limited importance. Dozens of them changed statutory population references to conform to a State Supreme Court decision, or repealed local acts no longer needed.

The Legislature boosted the State budget to a record $162,000,000 a year. Much of the increase resulted from demands for greater financial aid to local governments.

Highlights in its other enactments include:

HEALTH:
Increased State aid for the care of tuberculosis patients.

Creation of a State Department of Mental Health to replace the State Hospital Commission.

Larger grants to county or district health units.

Authority for townships to require pasteurization of milk sold within their boundaries.

LABOR:
Unemployment compensation benefits revised to make provision for dependents.

Require payments by employers for dentures or artificial appliances needed by an injured worker.

Higher benefits for death or total disability arising from silicosis or some other dust disease.

BUSINESS:
Restrict chain banking.

Create a State Department of Aeronautics.

Prohibit false "Army" or "Navy" stores.

Permit reimbursement to bank personnel for losses resulting from their employment.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT:
Create county and regional planning commissions.

Add two probate judges in Wayne County and one Circuit judge in Ingham County.

Allow certain health officers to act as coroners.

Create a municipal employees' retirement pension system under quasi-State management.

Allow certain counties to operate parking lots.

Permit use of the urban redevelopment act in certain additional counties.

STATE GOVERNMENT:
Appropriate $25,000 for the national Governors' Conference held in July at Mackinac Island.

Declare that the State's $50,000,000 postwar fund is not to be considered as surplus.

Limit the employment of legislators to a rate of pay equal to that of a non-legislator would get for the same work.

Add two labor members to the State Planning Commission.

Include water area in Michigan's total official area.

LOCAL AID:
Impose a 10 per cent tax on liquor.

Give Detroit one-third of increased State taxes on pari-mutuel betting at the Fair Grounds Race Track.

Revise the tax on intangible property and give all of it, instead of the current two-thirds, to local governments.

Increase State payments for patients at Eloise Hospital to $2.35 a day, an increase of 50 cents.

LIQUOR CONTROL:

THEATRE INCIDENT

Are we to forget our soldiers the minute they shed their uniform?

My husband and his brother and I went to a theater. We came too late for the first show, so we came back for the second.

My husband's brother, lost a leg and was seriously wounded at Anzio in Italy and although he has an artificial leg, he prefers to use his crutches when going to theaters because it is easier for him.

We went into the lobby early and bought our tickets and we stood there a long time, he on his one leg. I came and got some popcorn which only took a half minute and when I got back the usher slammed the door in my face when I tried to explain to her. She said sarcastically "That's too bad."

My husband and brother seeing that I had to stand outside came out to join me. Then when the first show let out his brother tried to get in before the crowd began to push and cause him to stumble, but again the usher came and shut the door on us and we had to wait while her relatives went in first.

Last fall, when his brother was home on a furlough and attended this theater, the manager left him in first, found him a seat, but it seems now that he is back in civilian clothes, no one cares if he stands by the hour or if he even gets to see the show.

I'm sure that boy hasn't forgotten the war, so why should we? Let's not forget those wounded boys who come back and also,

PORTABLE RADIO WILL BE USED

Conservation Officers To Get Equipment After War

Portable radio telephone sets of the type developed for use of soldiers in the field will greatly increase efficiency of conservation department forest fire fighting and law enforcement forces with war's end.

The department now holds approximately 300 separate licenses for radio sending and receiving outfits in its observation towers in forested areas, in headquarters buildings on the ground, and in its patrol cars. About half of the licenses are for amplitude modulation sending and receiving sets in its fire towers, the other half for two-way frequency modulation sets in ground stations and automobiles.

to places where they are needed. The sets will also increase efficiency of law enforcement officers. Quick reporting of violations will allow establishment of road blockades, when necessary, to apprehend violators.

The conservation department has pioneered in the application of frequency modulation principles to such uses in Michigan. After the war it will extend its two-way communications system to cover the entire state. The northern two-thirds of the state has such protection now, as has about half of the Grand Rapids district, embracing 10 southwestern Michigan counties.

Wearily we roll along...

But we'll keep on rolling

Many a worker, who once stepped on his own starter, today counts himself lucky when nobody steps on his toes in a jam-packed 'bus or trolley. Accustomed to shorter hours, he is surprised at his strength and skill to perform the more difficult tasks of a wartime day. It is his ambition to produce and produce and produce and thus hasten the day when our valiant youth will work by his side again.

Yes, everybody has been more weary in wartime than ever before, not forgetting that patient Mother who is first on the job before breakfast. And, who of us isn't determined to carry on to total victory? If America hadn't had the spirit to pull together, if we hadn't sharpened our wits, if we hadn't surprised ourselves with our own sinew and self-reliance, we might feel uneasy over whatever trials may lie ahead. As it is, we can be grateful for our war-fund capacities which will help the young folks get started in the sort of a world they want.

Since most folks are more tired than usual when they finish each wartime day, a bottle of golden, foaming Budweiser is a welcome companion in a moment of relaxation—and it makes simple, wartime meals taste better.

Hospital Tour Completed

MORE than a score communities were visited by L. A. Warren, engineer of the Veterans Administration, on his tour of inspection of suggested sites for the 250-bed veterans hospital to be erected somewhere in the Upper Peninsula.

Mr. Warren was not in a position to reveal where the hospital would be located, and it is doubtful whether he said anything at the various get-togethers that would lead any community to feel it was being favored. He was merely gathering all the information available regarding proposed sites, and will submit a report to the Veterans Administration in Washington, where the final decision will be made.

The veterans hospital idea was conceived in Gladstone back in 1937. At first, not much attention was paid to the project by the other cities, but when announcement came from Washington that the Upper Peninsula had been approved as an area to be served by this facility there soon was a mad scramble for it. Virtually every city and hamlet in the region has put in its bid.

Gladstone still has a good chance in the free-for-all scramble for the veterans hospital, however. It is conveniently located to serve the disabled veterans of the Upper Peninsula and a sizable portion of Wisconsin. There are adequate housing facilities in Gladstone and Escanaba to take care of relatives and friends who would be visiting the hospital. The Gladstone site has other advantages that will be given serious consideration by Veterans Administration officials in Washington. Their decision will be anxiously awaited, for the establishment of such an institution would mean much to Gladstone, Escanaba and surrounding communities.

Lest We Forget

NEXT Sunday has been designated as Lidice Day, marking the third anniversary of the day on which virtually all the population of the little village in Czechoslovakia were murdered by the Nazis.

More than six hundred men, women and children were put to death, and Lidice itself was bombed, burned and reduced to a mass of rubble. This was the German's way of avenging the Czech patriots' killing of Reinhard Heydrich, Hitler's blood-thirsty hangman in that occupied country.

But the destruction of Lidice did not prove an effective objective lesson to the Czechs. Instead of squelching their patriotic spirit, the heinous Nazi crime only fanned their hatred of their conquerors and bolstered their determination to resist thwart the enemy. As a result, Czechoslovakia was never actually conquered, for her patriotic people never forgot Lidice.

Lidice Day, observed annually throughout the world in the future, can also serve to revive the memories of Nazi aggression and bestiality. It should also make remember the horrors of war and make us resolve to do everything possible to prevent another similar catastrophe.

The Sugar Shortage

IN DISCONTINUING temporarily the issuance of sugar rations for home canning purposes, the OPA is acting to forestall a chaotic condition in the nation's sugar supply, which is growing alarmingly short.

Nevertheless, the OPA is doing some fancy buck-passing in blaming the American public for the present critical sugar situation, rather than accepting the responsibility itself, with other governmental food agencies, for the sugar shortage.

Last year the OPA allocated a maximum of 25 pounds of sugar per person for home canning purposes. Some of this sugar supply unquestionably was used for purposes other than for home canning. This year the home canning quota was reduced to a maximum of 15 pounds per person and, in addition, the household allowance was cut from five pounds for two and a half months to five pounds for four months.

Faced with the prospects of empty sugar bowls for household use, consumers rushed their applications for canning sugar, not because they are "racketeers" as OPA Administrator Chester Bowles charged, but because they sincerely believed the quota of 15 pounds per person was their fair share of the available supply. On the basis of the 1944 distribution, the OPA should reasonably have anticipated this condition.

Sugar is a vital food commodity, perhaps the most essential in human diets. In normal years, there has always been a world surplus of sugar. The needs of war for alcohol, made from sugar, and the fact that some of the principal sugar producing areas have been denied to us, have combined to bring about the current unpleasant sugar situation.

Name-calling is not going to solve the sugar shortage. A better distribution of the available supply, with greater emphasis upon household needs and reduction in such frills as confectioners and soft drink bottlers, would help much more.

We Have the Goods

PERHAPS it will not do much good in spurring War Bond purchases, but the new confidence displayed by our military leaders as they prepare to deal the knockout blows to Japan is heart-warming, nevertheless.

President Truman led off with a warning to the Japs to give up soon or be destroyed, mentioning incidentally that we will marshal 3,500,000 men for the showdown struggle. The once-powerful Japanese fleet holds no terrors for Admiral Halsey, who would like nothing better than to have a real battle with it.

Another sign of our growing confidence is the utmost abandon with which military plans, long held secret, are now openly divulged to the enemy. The exploits of American submarines in the Pacific are being given much publicity, and we even tell the Japs what the destructive fire-bomb is made of and how it works.

We no longer care what the Japs know about our military strength, for it is merely all bad news to them. And they know that we are not indulging in idle boasting, for the destruction caused by the bombs that are rained down by our many planes goes on daily before their eyes. The Nipponese war lords must be doing a lot of explaining nowadays and losing a lot of face. So sorry.

Other Editorial Comments

THEY YELLED 'GESTAPO' (Milwaukee Journal)

Down in Chicago, when OPA agents entered a storage plant to investigate the contents of the lockers, a small crowd quickly gathered. Almost at once the crowd took sides—against the government and for the food hoarders. There were catcalls and cries of "Gestapo."

It is hard to understand this sort of thing. Presumably most of the 50 persons in this crowd had found it practically impossible these last few days to buy meat. Presumably they knew one reason for the present shortage is that other men and women, ignoring OPA regulations, have bought meat where and how they could over a period of months and stored it for liberal use from day to day. Some of these lockers, the government contends, contain enough meat to supply their renters with prescary meals for a whole year.

Yet, when the government proceeds to start "cracking down" on the black market patrons, people who do not know where their needed meat is coming from yell "Gestapo"—act as though the government was on the other side instead of making a belated but real effort to stop diversion of meat from regular channels for the benefit of just such ordinary men and women as gather in groups when something happens.

We hope such a demonstration as this will never take place in Milwaukee and we doubt that it will. The people of this community are not inclined to view government with suspicion unless there appears to be a reason. They are accustomed to good government locally; also most of them have never been systematically ill advised by what they read. In Milwaukee, we hope, people understand and approve when government starts out to make better a situation that is fast becoming intolerable.

Three of the most popular unpopular expressions of the day are "No," "Sorry" and "Just out."

For years to come it will be foolish for tourists to take two trips to see Berlin and Tokyo—B-29's have made them look so much alike.

Every War Bond sold has played a part in saving a life—the life of the country you live in!

The Japs have praised the Nazi leaders via radio for hanging to their convictions. And, after their convictions, more hanging is in order.

WORDS TO WATCH
Substantially is another mirage word in that it seems to resemble "eventually," and, therefore, is frequently mispronounced, "sub-STAN-choo-uh-lee," even by persons of better than average education. Listen for the word on your radio, as I have. You'll be surprised how often it is pronounced as if it were spelled "sub-stan-tu-al-ly." Watch especially the third syllable and say: sub-STAN-sh'l-ee. Overheard on the radio: "... right after Pearl Harbor when we were thrust into the MEEL-strum of war." The word meant, of course, is maelstrom, "a whirlpool." The maelstrom is actually a strong, whirling current off the west coast of Norway. It was once believed to be capable of sucking in even large vessels. The name apparently is from the Dutch malen, "to grind," and stroom, "a stream." Be sure to pronounce the first syllable exactly like the word "mail." Say: MAIL-strum.

The plural of fungus is fungi. Since the "g" of fungus is hard, thus: FUNG-guss, it is natural to suppose that the "g" of fungi is also hard. But, instead, it has the sound of "j," and the "i" is like the "y" of "by," my." Also note that there is no "ng" sound in fungi. Say: FUN-jy.

Washington, the most revered name in American tradition, is one of the most cruelly misnamed. Even from the nation's capital itself, we hear the constant

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—In his long speech on the world organizations being shaped at San Francisco, Senator Robert M. LaFollette expressed the growing doubts of many people who hope with profound earnestness to see a world league formed that will embody not merely power, but faith as well.

Childs

Senator LaFollette was, of course, an isolationist. He still believes that it was unnecessary for Americans to be involved in this war. But he denied, in the course of his speech, that he was a perfectionist rejecting all attempts at organization, and his insistence in his own conviction of the need for a league had the ring of sincerity. It seemed to me he put his finger on the real weakness of San Francisco when he said:

"We must either have a Democratic international organization set up to enforce a just peace which can be successfully enforced, and be willing to take the logical steps necessary to achieve those two objectives or we will have to disregard the organization, even though we may join it, and go on with the program of Imperialism, power politics, balances of power, and military alliances. Such a course will produce the worst aspects of both policies, and none of the benefits of either."

That appears to be the course we are embarking on today. The big powers are giving lip service to a very limited form of world organization while all the time preparing the instruments of Imperial expansion and rivalry as in the past. And, as Senator LaFollette pointed out, this is not Russia alone.

Those who disclaim against the Soviet Union's go-it-alone policy should remember the biblical injunction about pointing out the mote in your neighbor's eye when you ignore the beam in your own eye. We talk about having the greatest navy and air force in the world. At the insistence of our navy department, the question of trusteeships has been blurred and confused so that we can keep strategic islands in the Pacific while maintaining a fictitious "trusteeship."

To buttress what Senator LaFollette said on the floor of the Senate came the story, through a crack in the wall of Argentine censorship, showing—as the correspondent of the New York Times put it—that Argentina's dictators have established a kind of Fascism worse than anything in Italy. This is the statement of correspondent Arnaldo Cortesi, who observed Italian Fascism for 17 years.

New and cruel repressions have been ordered since Argentina signed the Chapultepec agreement, which was a pledge to live up to the freedoms guaranteed by the creed of the United Nations. This was happening at the very time that the deal was being put through at San Francisco to admit Argentina to the United Nations conference.

That deal, and the brutality with which it was forced, was a shock that has had repercussions not at San Francisco alone, but around the world. While Nelson Rockefeller appears to have been the principal author, he was assisted by two professional diplomats of the old, backward-looking school that has contributed so much to misunderstanding.

One was Avra Warren of our own state department. The other, perhaps equally influential diplomat is Robert H. Haddo, Counselor of the British Embassy in Washington for Latin-American affairs. Haddo was formerly counselor of the British Embassy in Buenos Aires.

Some of us suggested early in April that the San Francisco conference be postponed because of the obvious fact that the imminent end of the war would preoccupy top, policy-making officials with problems that could not be put off. This suggestion was drowned in the chorus of those who said it was now or never; that any postponement would be fatal.

But what is done in haste and with little preparation may be no more than a pious gloss. Senator LaFollette suggested that if we accept the single veto principle, with all it means in hampering restraint on any real peace-making machinery, we should make it clear that we hope in the future to remove this restraint. This is a sobering suggestion to be seriously considered at San Francisco.

Gracie Allen Says--

It's hard to realize that this is June, the month of brides. I guess it's because so many of our beautiful and charming wedding customs are falling by the wayside. Like the throwing of rice and old shoes, for example. If people have any rice now they throw it in a cooking pot and no one will throw an old shoe any farther than his closet.

Even the ancient custom of carrying the bride across the threshold has suffered. Just the other day a bridegroom asked George and me if he could borrow our threshold to carry his bride across. It seems they were going to live in a tent.

And remember how the pranksters used to let the gas out of the newlyweds' car so they couldn't drive away? Now the OPA takes care of that angle.

and unlovely sound of "wosh-in-dun." Why? Don't ask me. But it is amazing that we Americans even need to be reminded that there is no "r" in Washington.

The "a" of wash and Washington has the broad "ah" sound, as in "watt, watch." All together, America, let's say: WAHSI-ing-tun.

What a Little Raw Meat Will Do

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

YOU AND FOOD—The food situation in the United States this year is expected to be the tightest since the start of the war. Lease-lend shipments have been cancelled, at least for three months. Citizens are urged to grow as much of their food as possible; a n d point rationing on the scarcer items have been increased—all in an effort to correct the situation so far as possible.

There is a grow-tide of accusations against the Office of Price Administration as the pinch begins to be more keenly felt. It can be expected that the name-calling and recriminations will increase so long as the food shortage grows, and will wane and disappear as food becomes more plentiful.

The wartime picture of food rationing and price control is a constantly changing one, demanding adjustment and readjustment almost from day to day. The immensity of the task is one that becomes still more difficult because of the average Americans' refusal to recognize the necessity for such controls.

STRAWS IN THE WIND—The willingness of a too-large group of Americans to pay any price to get more than their share by buying through black market channels is the nation's greatest threat, says OPA chief Chester Bowles. Counterfeit ration stamps are making their appearance in increasing numbers.

The black market couldn't operate, however, if it wasn't patronized, and there's the rub. What Mr. Bowles is attempting to do in fighting the battle of wartime rationing and inflation is simply make more complicated by the tendency of many to wink at the black market—and buy from it. This only makes it necessary for the OPA to fight another battle against lawlessness.

Admittedly there is not too much food. At the same time it cannot be said that civilians are suffering for lack of food. Neither are our men and women in the fighting forces—and that is the government's first responsibility.

SO WHAT—So what happens? The demagogue here and elsewhere immediately starts yelling a tune of sympathy for the "poor civilian" because he knows it is the popular thing to do. His interest is first in himself and secondly for you. Get that straight. His general attacks against rationing and price control are not constructive criticisms, they are simply attacks at the agency congress has authorized to do a most difficult job.

COMPARISON—Holding the line against excessive prices can mean everything to the little guy with the slim bank account—or none at all. It can also mean everything to the man who has plenty of it takes to buy the necessities, even though we should get into an inflation spiral.

The same man who yells vituperation against the OPA and price control and food rationing must have a memory that has convenient blank spots in it. One of these blank spots in his memory must be for the period right after the last war. Just for the sake of comparison the Bugler referred back in the Daily Press files of June, 1920—just 25 years ago. Here are some cost figures of those days compared with the prices of today:

June 1920 — Dairy butter 55 cents, oleo 35 cents, American cheese 42 cents, ham 45 cents, eggs 44 cents, sugar $1.38 for 5 pounds, cocoa 27 cents, tomatoes (can) 20 cents, coffee 50 cents, potatoes $4.50 bushel, oranges 25 cents a dozen.

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1935

The Platte and Kaw Rivers continued to pour into the Missouri and floods threatened to reach Kansas City, three thousand men attempted to strengthen the Kansas City dike system.

George Weyerhaeuser, 9 year old kidnapping victim, who was returned to his home after the ransom was paid, was taken out by G-men to show the place where he was held in the hopes that it might lead to the kidnappers.

Princess Ingrid of Sweden was hailed in Denmark on her honeymoon with Crown Prince Frederick of Denmark.

Charles M. Fost, secretary of the Delta Lodge, No. 195, F. & A. M. has returned from Grand Rapids where he represented the lodge at the annual meeting of the Michigan Grand Lodge.

20 Years Ago—1925

The death toll in Detroit from the heat reached 5. The temperature stayed at about 92 during the day. In Chicago and New York schools were let out early because of the heat but snow fell in Great Falls, Montana.

The Chinese riots were blamed on Russian Communists after literature inciting the people to riot and arms and ammunition were found in the rooms of many Russians staying in Shanghai.

Because of the hot dry weather fires broke out over the U. P. A. serious fire burned an abandoned lumber camp near Marquette before it was stopped.

William Nelson of Gladstone was honored by being elected president at the 23rd bi-annual convention of the Scandinavian Fraternity in America at Virginia, Minn. The next meeting, of which he will be in charge, will be held in St. Paul in 1927.

June 1945 — Dairy butter 46 cents, oleo 25 cents, American cheese 32 cents, ham (picnic) 31 cents, eggs 40 cents, sugar 35 cents for 5 pounds, cocoa 20 cents, tomatoes (can) 14 cents, coffee 31 cents, potatoes $2.32 a bushel, oranges 43 cents a dozen.

And the advertised price of women's "low shoes" of 25 years ago ranged from $8 to $12.50, men's exorbitant from a low of $9 up to $14. These prices were right here in Escanaba.

It will be admitted that this is not a comprehensive comparison, for it does not include meat items. Comparison was not made for the very good reason that little fresh meat is being advertised these days.

"UNCONSTITUTIONAL"—Back in June 1920 a U. S. District Court judge in Philadelphia held that the federal "food control act" was unconstitutional and got his name in the paper. He didn't help one bit in keeping down prices or halting a staggering inflation. He just said it was "unconstitutional" and washed his hands of the whole affair.

POSITIVE OR NEGATIVE?—What this U. S. district judge was doing back in 1920 was the same thing that many people are doing today—accentuating the negative. In the words of the popular song, however, this is the time (as it was in 1920) to "accentuate the positive" and "eliminate the negative."

Today's critics of rationing and price control are "accentuating the negative" until the positive may soon be eliminated. And when the positive price control and rationing program is eliminated it must not be at a time of national shortages due to wartime conditions. As soon as the bars are down prices will shoot up like weeds in our economic garden, and unless there are ample supplies only the Lord (and the inflated dollar) will know where they will end.

It is to be hoped that the little guy will not be caught in such a mess two years after this war.

—Clint Dunathan.

We depart from Baltimore at night.

Stop at Botwood, Newfoundland. Next over a helluva lot of clouds and blue water to stop at Foyes, Ireland. Then London.

HERE'S THE WAY IT USED TO BE—when I made my first ocean crossing in the summer of 1936:

The low fog lifted across the Atlantic and this rolling, quivering lazyman's Paradise they call the S. S. Normandie cut the murky waters two hours off the English coast. The red-eyed passengers still were preserving the precious hangovers collected the night before—at the economies.

Marked the retirement of Captain Pugnet, commander of the vessel. The occasion was an auspicious one, and the Broadway folk aboard all contributed in the tender homage. Ruth Eiting bade Godspeed to the sad commander, by rendering that touching little ballad entitled: "Is It True What They Say About Dixie?" Bert Wheeler's contribution was the recital of that charming bit of American folklore concerning the "vidoo Mouse who dot so dam drunk." Ham Fisher, the cartoonist, also was touched by the momentous occasion when men retire from the sea. Mr. Fisher's grief was expressed by his taking the stage to draw a picture of Joe Palooka—upside down.

MARLENE DIETRICH emerged from her suite to lend her presence to the ceremonies. Marlene, who had desired privacy, had sneaked aboard the ship quietly—except for her garish purple veils, white slacks and two weeks' advance publicity released by her studio officials. To assure her privacy, she was assigned a suite which featured a private deck, where she could walk alone and undisturbed. There was one slight discomfort, however, in that it faced smack up against the tourists' deck, where the passengers brought their cameras to sneak photographs of the glamorous star. Miss Dietrich refused absolutely to face this Kodak battalion—until she first had retired to her dressing room and donned makeup and false eyelashes.

EDWARD EVERETT HORTON relieved his jitteriness by cornering Max Reinhardt, whenever possible, in an attempt to convince the producer that Irving Thalberg, not Shakespeare, was the true author of "Midsummer Night's Dream." Mr. Horton's nervousness was brought about on the first night out—when he rushed to the chief steward demanding "to be transferred immediately—I'm in the bridal suite!" To no avail was the fortifying letter he bore upon his person—a letter from his 77-year-old mother, containing instructions as to proper conduct and safeguards for ocean voyagers.

IRVING BERLIN, still unaccustomed to the Normandie's rolling, sought security in the luxurious movie theatre on an upper deck, where, for the third time, he witnessed a showing of "San Francisco." The vessel's listing was so sheer that Irving insisted that the actors on the screen were talking out of the sides of their mouths.

Earlier that day he seated himself in the cocktail lounge, hesitating between ordering caviar or soufflé. "That doesn't sound," he told Bert Wheeler, "like the little East Side boy you used to know." . . . Sally Haines, Bert's fiancée, was beset with the same problem at dinner. The waiter had apprised her of the fact that besides the excellent dishes on the menu, any concoction she desired would be hers for the asking—from crepes suzette to filet-de-seal Marguery. . . . "Okay," replied the epicurean Sally, "make mine Mulligan stew!"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Washington observers have commented on the political demise of the men once closest to the White House throne—"Tommy the Cork" Corcoran. Yet last week that same Tommy the Cork accomplished almost single-handed the amazing feat of changing the government of China.

He got Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek out as Premier of China and put his friend T. V. Soong in—despite the fact that the two brothers-in-law hate each other.

Moreover, he did this largely by a photograph.

For many years, Corcoran has been a close friend of T. V. Soong, brother of Madame Chiang Kai-shek. Corcoran was one of the most ardent battlers for opening the Burma Road and getting supplies to China. So, when Soong came to Washington last month, Corcoran put his famous brain to work to get some token, significant to the Chinese, which would signify Soong's influence with the Truman administration.

He figured that a photograph of Soong with the new President of the United States, plus the secretary of war, plus the secretary of the navy, plus the secretary of state, would do the trick.

So Corcoran got his close friend, Secretary of the Navy Forrestal, to arrange for the photo in the rear garden of the White House. Next day, there was featured on the front pages of many newspapers a picture of the Chinese Foreign Minister with Truman, Stettinius, Stimson and Forrestal.

—CHINESE FACE—

The effect on China was electrifying. No other visiting dignitary had ever appeared in such a picture. Not even British Foreign Minister Eden, nor Molotov, nor French Foreign Minister Bidault.

In China, "face" counts almost more than anything. And a man who is close to the top leaders of a government which is the main benefactor of China automatically rates tops at home.

In addition, T. V. Soong brought home the bacon in other respects. He got a final promise of the U. S. gold previously earmarked for China. And he worked hard on U. S. officials to get 3,000 tons of cotton goods sent to China per month. This latter request riled the army, already short on cotton textiles. Also it will hit civilian supplies of cotton goods. So Soong got no definite promise.

But with his prestige sufficiently enhanced by the photo, T. V. Soong flew off to become Premier of China.

NOTE—Part of Soong's argument to U. S. Cabinet members who are considered anti-Russian was that the Chungking government needed to be strengthened as a bulwark against Moscow. To liberal cabinet members, Soong argued that if his prestige was built up, he would be strong enough to go to Moscow and work out a deal for cooperation with the northern Chinese Communists.

—ED PAULEY'S OIL—

When Attorney General Biddle started his suit to recover submerged oil under the ocean—especially off the California coast—was hitting directly at one of President Truman's staunchest supporters—Ed Pauley.

However, Biddle made the move only after getting Truman's advance consent. Ed Pauley, former treasurer of the Democratic National committee and main-spring in winning Truman's Chicago nomination, is one of the independent oil operators who have been sucking a fortune out of the ocean bed between the California coast and the three-mile limit. Also raking in lush fortunes are his good friends, Standard Oil of California. It is reported that Pauley's take from submerged oil runs to around $30,000 a month.

For several years, both Biddle and Secretary of the Interior Ickes have been wanting to crack down on this flow of oil from what they consider federal lands. Biddle prepared a suit back in 1939. But nothing happened. Roosevelt couldn't get steamed up about it and oil company pressure was terrific. Ed Pauley at that time was not particularly high in Democratic party councils. But other Californians were, and the state of California itself reaps a rich harvest from leasing this ocean shelf to private companies.

Finally, just after Truman entered the White House, Biddle placed before him the submerged oil controversy and recommended a lawsuit. The new President didn't hesitate. He Ok'd the move immediately.

"You'd better take some time to think it over," the Attorney General suggested. "It's a delicate question. It might be a good idea to talk it over with Ed Pauley." Truman did think it over. By this time Ed Pauley had become much more influential in the Democratic party than in 1939 and Truman was considerably indebted to him. However, Truman did not change his mind. He told Biddle to proceed with the suit. And though the Attorney General is leaving the cabinet, the suit for recovery of the submerged oil is going ahead anyway.

NOTE—The potent array of oil lobbyists Biddle had to overcome included: Howard K. Marshall, former attorney for Standard of California and for the Petroleum Administration of War; Welbourn Mayock, attorney for the Democratic National committee and for Ed Pauley; Oscar Lawler, former solicitor of the interior department and prominent California attorney; and Pauley himself. Sitting on the sidelines also was Ralph Davies, vice-president of Standard, now deputy PAW administrator.

Lieut.-Gen. Jimmy Doolittle, who gave Tokyo its first taste of air raids, is going back. The first shall be the last—of Japan.

LIGHTER DRAFT CALLS LIKELY

But Quotas Must Be Met In Entirety, Local Board Is Told

Draft calls for the months of July, August and September in Michigan are expected to be slightly lower than the quotas for the previous three months, Gen. LeRoy Pearson, director of Selective Service in Michigan, has informed the Delta county draft board.

In a letter received yesterday from Gen. Pearson, the local board, however, was advised that forthcoming calls for the three months will have to be filled in their entirety to meet the military needs, with registrants in the age group 18-29 being called to fill the quotas.

"Strict application of Selective Service regulations and standards for deferment for registrants 18 through 29 will be uniformly and absolutely necessary to insure the filling of our calls," Gen. Pearson wrote. "The standards for deferment on account of occupational employment are the same for all physically fit registrants in the age group 18-29, with the exception of those truly coming under the Tydings amendment."

Correct Disparities
The Selective Service official also indicated that efforts will be made to adjust quotas so that disparities that now exist in percentages of men provided by the various counties will be eliminated.

Pearson reported, "There are some evident disparities in percentages of contributions made by local board areas and counties as a whole in this state that have caused some comment. I realize that some disparities are inescapable and perhaps defensible from the geographical, industrial and economic considerations and other differences in situations. I would like, however, to have these disparities reduced as much as possible, in the end that there will be no unjustifiable complaints that one community has been forced to contribute more than its just share to the armed forces in this war."

Sgt. Smith is a member of the Fortress group which has received two Distinguished Unit Citations. ## Keep Learning, Is Advice To Seniors By Rev. Laforest

"Keep on Learning" was the subject of an inspiring baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Fr. George Laforest to the Escanaba high school graduation class at the annual baccalaureate program Sunday evening at the Wm. W. Oliver memorial auditorium.

In his address, Rev. Laforest stressed the fact that the seniors graduating this year have remained in school, resisting temptation to accept high paying war jobs, in order to better prepare themselves for a fruitful career in years ahead.

He emphasized the importance of religious guidance in attaining their goals in life.

The seniors were told by Fr. Laforest that their graduation from high school marked an important chapter in their lives, but that the quest for more education must go on.

Police Take Over Dog Catcher Job

Two regular policemen of the Escanaba police force have taken over the task of rounding up stray dogs in the city on their off-duty hours, after Police Chief Michael Ettenhofer found it impossible to obtain the services of a full-time man for the job.

The two policemen started on their dog catching work yesterday will continue for an indefinite period. The ordinance prohibiting dog running at large is in effect only during the summer gardening months.

Dogs found running at large will be placed in pound and kept for a period of 48 hours. During that time the owner may obtain their release by paying a fee of $1.50. Dogs that are not called for will be put to death in a gas box. The city dog ordinance applies to all dogs, whether licensed or unlicensed. If the dog is licensed, however, and the license is attached to the dog's collar, the owner will be notified that the dog has been impounded.

Cpl. Earl Murphy Liberated From War Prison Camp

Cpl. Earl Murphy was a prisoner of war in Germany for 26 months until his recent release, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Murphy, have reported. It had previously been erroneously reported that Murphy was a German prisoner for 30 months.

The letter from his parents follows: "Dear Mom and Dad: "I guess you are waiting hard for this letter saying that I am a free man. I have been in American hands for two days (May 4). My hands are so shaky I don't know if you will understand my writing. "We were taken behind our lines about 100 miles and given food first which we needed bad. I think only a little buggy. "I think we will fly out of here to some French port and load on a transport for home. It may take two weeks or so before I get there, but I'm coming. Keep the home fires burning. I want some good home baked bread and creamed spuds (Order No. 1). "I'm not going to write much, I can tell you so much better in person, so I will sign off, give my love to Norman and the rest. "Love, "Earl."

The library receives this grant because it is in an area where the assessed valuation is less than 2-3 in that of the state and because the library also meets the required certification qualifications for the year 1944-45.

The library board decides how this money is to be used.

A. T. SOHLBERG ROTE SPEAKER

Tells Of Work Done In Effort To Obtain Vets' Hospital

A resume of the work done in preparing data for the government to show what Gladstone has to offer as site for a Veterans' hospital and why locally it is believed to be the logical site of such facility to serve the Upper Peninsula was given before the Gladstone Rotary club yesterday noon by S. Theodore Sohlberg, chairman of the hospital committee.

Mr. Sohlberg traced the start of the movement back in 1936 and 1937 when through efforts on the part of the Legion, Gladstone was approved by the U. P. association, the State Department and the National Department of the Legion as the logical site of a proposed Veterans' facility and its construction here was urged by all three.

For many years Gladstone alone promoted the U. P. Veterans' hospital idea and several bills were introduced into congress calling for such a project only to die in committee. With a 250 bed facility assured the U. P., practically every town and city in the Upper Peninsula stuck in its bid asking that it be located in their vicinity.

The speaker praised the support given by Escanaba to this city in its bid for the hospital and touched on the recent trip here of L. A. Warren, Sheridan, Wyo., special site investigator for Veterans' Administration.

James Dehlin, M. D., of Flint, was a guest of his father, Gus Dehlin, at the meeting.

Let's talk turkey.

Today your country is asking you to buy War Bonds—twice as many as you did last time—in the biggest and most urgent War Loan of all... the Seventh.

Why so much more than you bought before?

Here's why: Up to this time last year there had been two war loans. This time, the Seventh War Loan must do the job of two.

And because the cost of the war is just as great, the money you put into War Bonds in one loan now must equal what you put into two last year.

Sure, a lot of optimistic people are saying, "Look at what's happened in Europe!"

They don't stop to think that regardless of Germany's condition, we at home must keep sending our millions of men in Europe tons and tons of supplies daily.

They don't realize how much money it takes to pay for the care we must give our thousands of wounded...

money for medicines, for hospital ships, for months of careful nursing and rehabilitation in hundreds of convalescent hospitals.

And in the Pacific—well, we've at last got into position where we can really start harvesting the seeds of victory our fighting men have planted.

We've got to lend those men a hand, right now, by loading more ships with more supplies, more guns, more tanks, more shells, more food than ever went across that broad ocean before.

That's why our country is asking that you back up our soldiers and sailors, among them millions of farm boys, who are fighting and dying far from their homes and fields... back them up by buying twice as many bonds as you did before.

COURT TO RULE ON RACING PLEA

Alleviation Of Alleged Nuisances May Reopen Detroit Track

Lansing, June 4 (AP)—The state supreme court will rule tomorrow morning on a plea that horse racing and pari-mutuel betting be permitted to reopen at the Michigan state fairgrounds pending the outcome of a suit challenging the constitutionality of both activities.

The court announced it would issue its decision Tuesday morning after it received arguments from David H. Crowley, counsel for the Detroit Racing Association, and Assistant Attorney General Edmund E. Shepherd, urging an injunction closing the track be stayed pending the outcome of the suit.

By their questions, some justices indicated they were interested in a plan whereby the races could continue if certain improvements were installed to reduce claimed nuisances in the operation of the track.

Former Supreme Court Justice Bert D. Chandler, counsel for property owners who brought the suit, argued that a real injury was being inflicted on his clients, that the odor of manure was so strong in summer time that they were forced to sleep with their windows closed and that flies and rodents were a pest in the neighborhood.

Shepherd asked the court to maintain the status quo while the suit was pending, asserting that both a state agency and state income would be destroyed if the injunction issued by Circuit Judge Guy L. Miller of Detroit were allowed to stand.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

After threatening to revolt because they were not given a voice in the selection of the new baseball commissioner, A. B. Chandler, the minor leagues have indicated that they will go along with the new commissioner, provided they are granted some important changes in the major-minor league agreement which expires next January. First of all, the minors want an increase in the draft price for players selected by the major leagues from the minor leagues. The present price is $7,500 and the minors are demanding $15,000. They may be a compromise settlement at $10,000, however.

Another change that the minors demand is one giving the minors greater autonomy in handling their own affairs. At present the majors maintain virtual veto authority over the minors, even in affairs of purely minor league concern. The minors undoubtedly will win this point by the simple expedient of threatening to reject any agreement that fails to provide this autonomy. The minors also are seeking greater protection for their clubs in cities that higher-class circuits may invade.

The baseball commissioner is the ruler of all organized baseball the minor leagues as well as the majors. The minors notified the big league magnates that they wanted to have a voice in the selection of the new commissioner but the big leagues didn't even reply to the request. They propose to have a voice in the selection of the new commissioner but the big leagues didn't even reply to the request. ## Origin Of Spartan Name For Michigan Staters Revealed

East Lansing, June 4 (AP)—Michigan State college's athletic nickname, "the Spartans," is 19 years old this year and that fact of its birth now have come to light.

As M.S.C. gets ready to unveil this week a nine-and-a-half foot statue of a Spartan warrior, George S. Alderton, sports editor of the Lansing State Journal, tells how he and Dale Stafford, assistant managing editor of the Detroit Free Press, chose the name.

Alderton said he and Stafford, then working for the Lansing Capital News, decided the school needed a new nickname after its official title was changed from Michigan Agricultural College to Michigan State College and the traditional nickname "Staters" but the two sports writers knew that was too cumbersome, Alderton explained.

He said he and Stafford selected the name "the Spartans" from contest entry which had been rejected. It had been submitted by Perry J. Fremont, former M.S.C. baseball player and now right hand man to Giles Kavanaugh, the internal revenue collector at Detroit.

Alderton said he used the name for the first time April 2, 1926 in writing a baseball story from Fort Benning, Ga., and that the name caught on without college officials ever adopting it formally.

Munising News

Ouellette Death Details Received

Munising, Mich. — Details concerning the death of Lt. William K. Ouellette, who was killed in action on April 30, were received by the family, Lawrence Ouellette, 313 Chocoley street, Munising, in a letter from Major P. L. Shuman, U. S. Marine Corps.

The letter reads as follows: "It is with deep regret that I wish to inform you that your son, First Lt. William K. Ouellette, was killed in action on April 30, 1945. Your son has served under my command for the past 12 months. During this time, he became a trusted friend and an excellent combat pilot. He had led my second section for this tour of combat, always flying with me."

"The day of the fatal mishap, Ken was leading a two plane section protecting our ships from enemy aircraft. He was in radio communications with the ship and knew enemy planes were in the immediate vicinity. Flying at a medium altitude, he dove down near the water to investigate and give better protection. The ships in the meantime opened fire and your son flew his fighter directly in, still trying to locate the enemy. He willingly took the chance to protect the many men aboard the ship. His plane was hit by anti-aircraft fire and went directly into the water. The end was instantaneous and I am sure he realized no pain. His body was recovered and given military burial at sea."

"Ken was an outstanding member of this squadron. His excellent character and fine personality made him loved by officers and men alike. His loss was deeply felt by every one of us. On behalf of the squadron, I wish to extend our most sincere sympathy at your bereavement."

Louisville Dresses Up For Derby Day Classic

BY ORLO ROBERTSON

Louisville, Ky., June 4 (AP)—Derbytown started dressing up today for its annual fling but the honored guest will remain a mystery until a dozen or so three-year-olds finish the mile and one-quarter of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs last Saturday.

Huge "No Parking" signs were sprung along the streets leading to the Downs. Store windows were dressed in honor of the occasion—the fourth under war time restrictions which limit the attendance to Louisville and the immediate vicinity.

The sprawling stands stretching for more than a quarter-mile along the home stretch were ready to receive their expected crowd of more than 50,000.

Arguments over the prospective winner of the $75,000 added classic were more numerous than ever, chiefly because there is no standout candidate. A trip around the barns revealed that every trainer is hoping for the best while fearing every other horse in the race.

While waiting for the arrival from the East of Col. C. V. Whitney's highly regarded Jeep and Alexis from Henry Langer's Christiana stables, stable talk still centered around the victory of Mrs. W. G. Lewis' Darby Dieppe in last Saturday's Blue Grass stakes and the possibility that Warren Wright's Pot O'Luck and E. R. Bradley's Burning Dream might return to the form they showed earlier in the meeting at the Downs.

SELLING TREND CRIMPS STOCKS

BY VICTOR EUBANK

New York, June 4 (AP)—The stock market today had to contend with fairly insistent selling although stocks, aircrafts and scattered utilities stressed liquidation with moderate success.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 1.1 point at 66.3. Of 939 issues appearing, 377 were up and 562 down. Unchanged: 15. Dealings quickened at intervals and volume totaled 1,540,000 shares compared with 1,350,000 Friday.

Canon Mills was an isolated strong spot, pushing up 4 points to 55 1/2, a new high for the move, when directors voted a 5 per cent stock dividend in addition to a 25-cent cash payment on the common. Previous disbursements had been 50 cents a share.

Highs for the week longer were recorded for Consolidated Edison, Columbia Gas and Gulf Mobile & Oil. Ahead were U. S. Steel, 19 1/2; Youngstown Sheet, Boeing, Lockheed, Grumman, Consolidated Vultee, United Aircraft, Du Pont, Anacosta and American Woolen.

Losers included Chrysler, General Motors, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, U. S. Rubber, Woolworth, American Water Works and Standard Oil (N. J.).

BOND RANGE NARROW

New York, June 4 (AP)—The bond market shifted uneventfully in a narrow range today with turnover unusually light except in a few special rail auctions.

A thoroughly scrambled price pattern developed early in the session and persisted throughout, although individually favored issues tended to firm in the final hour. The rails and utilities in the Associated Press average and held the market.

Low-yields lost minor fractions of a point while the foreign issues held gain of 2 of a point at 104.1945 high at 73.9. Sales of $6,700,000 compared with $11,000,000 last Friday.

Moderately ahead at the end were International Telephone 4 1/8 and 5, Norfolk Southern 3 1/8, St. Louis-South Western 3 1/8, Seaboard 4 1/8, Texas & Pacific 3 1/8, Western Maryland 3 1/8, American Tobacco 3 1/8, Boston & Maine 4 1/8 and Chicago & Alton 3 1/8.

Under water were obligations of the Morris & Essex Trust Co. and 5, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, New Haven, Chicago & Eastern Illinois, Rio Grande Western and Lehigh Valley. St. Paul 3 1/8 and 5 added small fractions but the adjustment 5 1/8 and 4 1/8 lost ground. U. S. governments were only slightly changed either way.

Further adjustments were made in some of the Brazil bonds, total U. S. sales 20 advanced 1 1/2 points to 66 on sale of one bond while the series 15 and 23 backed up 1 to 2. Chilean loans were ahead.

First Place Only Two Games Away For Homing Tigers

Cleveland, June 4 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, still in second place just two games off the pace of the league leading New York Yankees, stopped off here today enroute home from their first eastern trip of the season and will open a three-game series with the Cleveland Indians Tuesday with a night game.

Les Mueller, side-arm right-hander who shut out the Yankees with a two-hit mound job in his first start of the season last week, was Steve O'Neill's choice to open the Indians in the arc-light encounter. Single games are scheduled here Wednesday and Thursday before the Tigers return home for a twilight game Friday with the Chicago White Sox.

Byrd Clips Three Off Par To Qualify

Detroit, June 4 (AP)—Sam Byrd, playing on his home course, clipped par by three strokes in this afternoon with a 69 to share medal honors with Claude Harmon in Michigan district qualifying for the national PGA golf tournament. Both had 145 for 36 holes at Plum Hollow golf club.

Byrd had an eagle and four birdies in forging his 69 to go with a morning 76. Harmon, playing more consistent golf, had 73-72-145.

Al Watrous, with a pair of 76's, shared third place with Chick Rutan, 74-76-152, Frank Walsh, Red Run, had 80-81-154, for fifth and Tommy Shannon, Orin Lake, was sixth with 77-78-155.

Ernie Shave, Michigan PGA secretary, said the district qualifying quota would not be established until next Friday but believed at least six Michigan pros would qualify for the PGA event July 9-15 at Dayton, Ohio.

Walter Hagen, a former champion, and Jimmy Gantz, discharged seaman returned to civilian status since last June 1, are exempt from qualifying.

County Plans Appeal To State On Tax Allocation

The Delta county tax allocation commission in meeting last night increased the tax millage rate of the city schools to 8.8 mills and reduced the county to 6.1 mills, and O. J. Thorsen, chairman of the county board, told the commission that the county finance committee expects to appeal to the state tax commission for a higher rate.

The state tax commission is the final authority in reviewing allocation or equalization matters brought to it on appeal from local units of government.

Chairman Thorsen, who met informally last night with some members of the finance committee and Prosecutor Torval E. Strom, said the appeal might also ask the state tax commission for a complete revaluation and equalization of the county.

The finance committee of the county board of supervisors will meet at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night in the court house at Escanaba when formal action will be taken regarding the appeal.

Action of the county tax allocation commission, headed by C. P. Titus, county school commissioner as chairman, came after long and occasionally heated discussion. Present at the meeting besides the members of the allocation commission were the members of the county finance committee and the school boards of Escanaba and Gladstone.

Previously the allocation commission had set 8.8 mills for the city schools and 6.1 mills for the county as a tentative figure. Last night's meeting was scheduled for a public hearing of complaints.

Composing the allocation commission are Chairman Titus, County Treasurer Robert C. Pryal, Supervisors Harold Gustafson, chairman of the county finance committee; Gust Peterson and Peter N. Logan of Escanaba, and Helmer Skogquist of Gladstone.

Gustafson and Pryal, the two county representatives, were outvoted by the other four, who solidly backed the motion to allocate 8.8 mills to the schools. This left the county with but 6.1 mills.

Escanaba schools had originally requested over 9 mills and Gladstone schools over 10 mills to meet their budgetary needs for the coming year.

Behind the fight over the millage rate was the question of assessed valuations on which the tax is assessed.

It was the contention of the school group that the schools have no authority over the increasing of valuations, while the county board of supervisors, to meet its budget needs, can increase the county's equalized valuation and thus bring in more tax revenue on its 6.1 allocation.

There was considerable discussion, headed by Escanaba-Supervisor Peter N. Logan, on the question of assessment and equalization.

Logan declared that Escanaba has increased its valuations to a figure set by the state tax commission, and it was his opinion that valuations in the townships and Gladstone are too low to properly finance county and school operation.

Last year after the equalization meeting of the county board Logan declared that he would appeal for a state revaluation of the county unless values were properly equalized this year.

After the final millage rate was set for the city schools and the county, tentative allocations for townships and township schools was established. Hearing on these will be held by the commission June 18. Tentative millage rates are as follows:

Twp.	Schools
Baldwin	1.4
Bark River	2.4
Bay de Noc	1.4
Brampton	.9
Cornell	1.4
Ensign	8.9
Escanaba	.9
Fairbanks	1.4
Ford River	1.9
Garden	.9
Maple Ridge	2.4
Masonville	2.4
Nahma	1.6
Wells	8.9

Baldwin township was also allocated 7 mills debt service rate, Maple Ridge 5 mills for debt service, and Garden village received .1 mill according to statute.

News From Men In The Service

Pvt. Casimir A. Gruska, about 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gruska of Perronville, who had not been heard from since the fall of Corregidor early in 1942, was a prisoner of the Japanese in the Philippines, according to a card received from him last week.

The form card said only that he was a prisoner and that he was well. It was addressed to a friend in Bark River, and was undated.

Pvt. Gruska enlisted in the United States Army in 1939 and was in the Philippines before the Japanese attack on the islands. With the liberation of the Philippines by American forces it was presumed that if Pvt. Gruska were there in a prison camp he would have been freed and would have communicated before this with relatives. It was also speculated that he may have been transferred by the Japs to Japan itself.

The Red Cross in Delta county has been contacted in an effort to obtain further information in an effort to learn whether Pvt. Gruska continues as a prisoner or has been liberated.

Pfc. James Dishno, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dishno, Wells, met a number of his Delta county friends in the Philippines recently, he has informed his parents. Among them are Pfc. Robert Thorsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Thorsen, Wells; Cpl. Richard Dishno, a cousin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dishno, First avenue north; and Cpl. Edward Strahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Strahl, of Chicago, formerly of Escanaba.

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England—Staff Sgt. Richard L. Cousineau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Cousineau, Manistique has been awarded an Oak Leaf Cluster to his air Medal for "exceptionally meritorious achievement" while participating in sustained bomber combat operations over enemy occupied continental Europe, it recently was announced by the Commanding General of the Eighth Air Force.

The citation accompanying the award read in part: "The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this enlisted man upon these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

Sgt. Cousineau, engineer gunner on a B-17 Flying Fortress, has flown on some of the Eighth Air Force's roughest missions over Germany, including Berlin, Leipzig, Bohnen, Chemnitz and Bremen. Other successful bombing assaults credited to Sgt. Cousineau are those in the Ruhr Valley area where marshalling yards, bridges, and other lines of communication have been knocked out by our heavy bombers in coordination with the advances made by the U. S. ground troops near the battle line.

Sgt. Cousineau, a member of the 398th heavy bombardment group commanded by Lt. Col. Lewis P. Ensign, El Paso, Texas, received his training at Chanute Field, Ill., Las Vegas, Nevada; and Missoula, Montana. He entered the army October 1, 1941. His wife, Mrs. Eileen Kashbohm Cousineau, also is from Manistique.

T/Sgt. Robert L. Scott of Rapid River, is now serving with the 76th Quartermaster Battalion (Mobile) which, though originally trained for convoy trucking operations in Arctic blizzards, now finds itself in Italy, maintaining fleets of trucks driven for the most part by Italian civilians.

This quirk, however, does not minimize the importance of the unit to the effective distribution of supplies for the Peninsular Base Section, vital services and supply organization for the Fifth Army and for the Air Corps ground crews and naval elements in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations. The base is commanded by Brigadier General Francis H. Oxx, Newport, R. I.

T/Sgt. Robert L. Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Scott of Rapid River. He attended Rapid River high school and before entering military service he worked for Proctor and Gamble, Milwaukee, Wis. T/Sgt. Scott has been in the Army since Nov. 30, 1942 and overseas in North Africa and Italy since August 1943. He wears the Mediterranean theater ribbon with battle participation star.

A U. S. Troop Carrier Base, European Theater of Operations—Crossing the Rhine in the greatest airborne operation of the war was Flight Officer Douglas J. Nelson, whose father, I. R. Nelson, lives at Bark River, Mich. As pilot of a Troop Carrier glider he carried glider borne troops and equipment to a landing zone deep in Germany held territory east of the Rhine.

F/O Nelson is a veteran glider pilot in Colonel Frank Krebs' well known 440th Troop Carrier Group, awarded the Presidential Unit Citation for its work in the invasion of Normandy, the paratroop and glider operation in Southern France, the airborne invasion of Holland and the aerial resupply of the American troops at Bastogne. He holds the Air Medal.

As part of Major General Paul L. Williams U. S. Troop Carrier Forces his group operates, between invasions, in the aerial transportation of thousands of tons of vitally needed gasoline, ammunition and food to forward airstrips close to the fighting lines.

F/O Nelson was graduated from the Harris high school in 1938 and attended the Northern Michigan College of Education before entering the Army Air Forces in January 1942. He was awarded his wings at Victorville, Calif. in April 1943.

Pope Field, N. C.—Second Lieut. Dean H. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Jones, 36 S. Locust St., Oconomowoc, Wis., has been assigned to this base of the First Troop Carrier Command for a one month navigational training course. His wife resides at 703 S. 17th St., Escanaba, Mich.

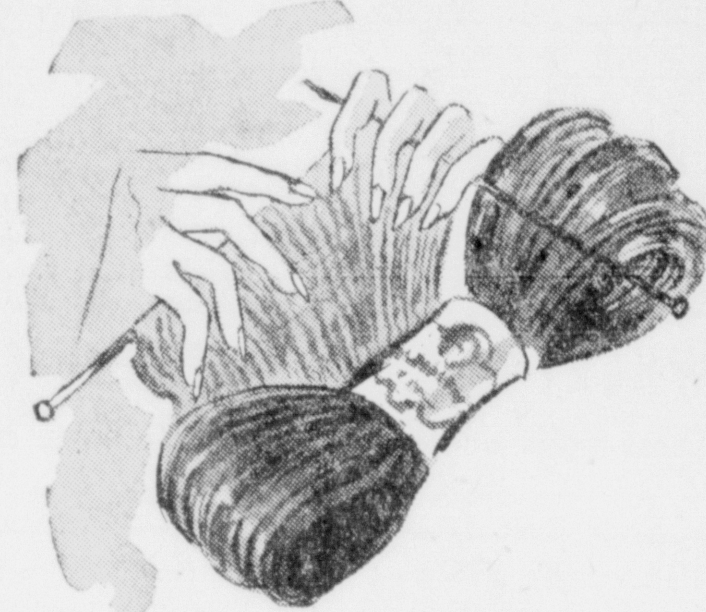

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes would all his money, a quarter of a million dollars, to the U. S. Government, and gave all his books to the Library of Congress.
